

Continued Successes Show Preparedness Of the Present Revolution In China.

Of the many revolutions that have taken place in China the present one is the most thoroughly prepared and completely organized, as is evidenced by the repeated successes of the insurgents. The occupation of Shanghai was strategically their most important movement. Fearing that Canton may be the next point of attack, the government has rushed immense supplies of guns and munitions to that place.

RECLAIMED LANDS GROWING EX- CELLENT CROPS

Uncle Sam Pleased With Results on His Irrigated Farms.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Reports to the reclamation service of crops raised this year on government irrigation projects are encouraging, according to officials of the bureau.

As an evidence of the general prosperity of the farmers, the officials point to the Klamath project in Oregon and California. While $200,000 has been paid to the government for water rights and various other charges, farm mortgages for this purpose do not exceed $300. During the last three years, real estate values on this government enterprise, it is estimated, have increased from 50 to 100 per cent as a direct result of reclamation work.

Of the 30,000 acres on this project susceptible of irrigation, all but 2500 were irrigated this year; and only 250 farm units remain open to entry.

On the Okanogan project in Washington, 65 per cent of the lands to be reclaimed were under cultivation this year.

The average crop yield on the Truckee-Carson project in Nevada is reported to be better than usual, the only crop that proved disappointing being sugar beets. The failure was due largely, it was said, to the inexperience of the farmers with that crop. A beet sugar factory, now nearly completed, is expected to help the farms next year in handling this product. The government is spending $40,000 a month on this project.

HOW TO SEND XMAS PACKAGES

Merchants and transportation companies are sending out their annual warnings to the public to "come early and avoid the Christmas rush." The following list of suggestions is issued by the Wells-Fargo Express company with reference to shipping Christmas presents by express:

"Use wooden boxes for glass or fragile articles. Pack contents in excelsior.

"Carefully erase any old marks on boxes or wrapping paper which may have been previously used for other shipments.

"Incise a card in each box or package, bearing the name and address of the sender and consignee. This will avoid delay in delivery in case the outside address should be destroyed.

"Use good strong paper for wrapping packages and tie them securely with strong twine.

"Address shipments plainly with ink, printing name of consignee, number and street, city and state, as nearly as possible in center of one side of package and following word 'from' write or print your own name, local address and city in lower left hand corner. Avoid the use of tags when possible.

"This company recommends the use of its special Christmas address label which will be furnished free upon application. These address labels can be used on either boxes or packages.

"Money, jewelry and other valuables should be shipped only in sealed packages through the money department.

"Get a receipt for your shipments, showing the amount of charges paid, and see that the value of the shipment is stated on the receipt.

"If shipment contains perishable matter, see that the word 'perishable' in large, plain letters, is placed on box or package to insure special attention and prompt delivery.

"Make your shipments as early as possible and use the express companies do not open until Christmas labels."

High Mass on Mount Shasta.
Climbing the steep sides of Mount Shasta by moonlight and saying high mass on the perpetual snow at its summit at sunrise was the feat performed by Father Cahir of Yreka Wednesday night and Thursday morning.

In the party were Father Cahir of Yreka, Father O'Sullivan of Red Bluff and John Roberts of Berkeley, all of whom reached the top except Father O'Sullivan, who got only to Thumb Rock. C. M. Allison was guide.

The priests were anxious to celebrate mass at the top of the mountain Thursday morning and the climb was made at night, which is a rare feat, the claim being made that this is the third time that such an attempt has been made. Timber Line camp was reached in the afternoon and at eight o'clock the climb began.—Sisson Dispatch to Los Angeles Times.

CATCH TROUT TO SAVE THEM

Idaho Officials Seize Them in Irrigation Ditches and Put Them Back in River.

A rescue work of considerable magnitude is under way in the Big Lost River valley, Idaho, where L. C. Jones, assistant chief deputy in the state fish and game department, is directing the seining of the Big Lost River Land and Irrigation company's canal for trout, which are taken to the river proper and there deposited.

The canal was built about two years ago, and fish screens should have been provided at the head at that time, it is said, but it seems that this has never been done, with the result that it was feared that great quantities of trout would be lost when the waters of the canal began to diminish. The action of Mr. Jones and his assistants in securing the fish alive and returning them to the fresh and lasting waters of the main stream may save many trout.

It will be recalled that the waters in the canal are carried through a mountainous country in some sections, and that in coming down to the lowlands abrupt drops of from 15 to 20 feet are encountered occasionally. These the fish go over, and of course are unable to return. To prevent the members of the fishy tribe from being carried to the fields and waste places where death would be inevitable, the work of seining the canal has been inaugurated. Reports are to the effect that the efforts of the rescuers are proving highly productive of results.

TAKES PHOTOS OF THOUGHTS

French Scientist Says He Has Got Impressions of Them on Sensitive Plates.

Much interest has been aroused in Paris by the announcement of the well-known scientific investigator, Commander Darget, of the success of experiments in photographing human thought.

Commander Darget, who has devoted a long time to the study of hypnotism and kindred subjects, stated to the Academy of Science that after many trials he had succeeded in obtaining photographic impressions of thoughts of concrete objects. He produced as evidence two photographs, one showing a walking stick and the other a bottle, in each case the image being perfectly distinct.

In explanation of his achievement, Commander Darget gave the following account of the process:

After staring a long time on the object to be photographed in a strong red light, concentrating all his attention on it, he fixed his gaze with all the will power at his command on a photographic plate that had previously been immersed in a weak developer in a dark room. At the end of a quarter of an hour the image of the object appeared on the negative.

According to the commander's theory, these astonishing results are due to certain obscure light rays which he calls "V" rays.

ARIZONA IS HIS FAVORITE

In Forty-Seven Years George Carey of Columbia Did Not Leave the Territory.

Forty-seven years continuous residence in Arizona, without once setting foot outside her borders, is believed to be the record. It was established by George Carey of Columbia, Yacapai county, who has just returned from a two months' trip to Los Angeles and other coast points after living in this territory since 1864.

When Carey first came to Arizona he was a freighter. From mining camp to mining camp he drifted, until the want of lucrative business forced him into mining. That was more than 25 years ago, but it was not until last spring that prosperity came. He received the first payment on some mining claims that he had developed with his own hands, and bought a round trip ticket to California. For two months this trail blazer gazed upon towering buildings and other modern wonders of which he had read, but which he had never seen. When he passed through Prescott on his way to Columbia he said that he had enjoyed every minute of it, but that he had stayed "just long enough."

Carey is now developing some promising claims near those that he sold and probably it will be several years more before he leaves Arizona again.
